

Envisioning Your Ideal Craft Space

Thank you for downloading these worksheets! I hope they will help you start to think about what you really want from your crafting space so that you can get motivated to remove anything that doesn't suit that vision.

If you need more help, I'm working on an ebook all about decluttering craft supplies that will be released soon. In the meantime, I'd love to hear about your specific decluttering struggles when it comes to creating your ideal craft space. Send me an email at sarah@sarahewhite.com.

Best wishes,

Sarah

Evaluating Your Space

Take a walk around or look around your crafting space (or what you would like to become your crafting space). Get ready to be really honest about what you see.

What do you want to do in this space?

What do you have too much of?

What do you not have enough of?

What are three words to describe how you want the space to look or make you feel?

Design Your Ideal Crafting Space

Draw, write or collage what you want your craft space to look and feel like when you are done decluttering.

Getting Started

What are three things you can do this week to help make your space more like the one you envision?

What can you do right now to help clear this space?
